Introduction

We are Conversion Works Limited with registered number 08417758 and address Unit 6 Windsor Business Centre SL4 1SP. Our Data Protection Lead can be contacted at dataprotection@conversionworks.co.uk. We have produced this privacy notice in order to keep you informed of how we will handle your personal data as Data Controller. All handling of your personal data is done in compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 (“Data Protection Legislation”).

This notice will apply to any individual applying for a role within our business, either as an employee, contractor or worker (collectively referred to in this notice as “Candidates”).

As part of running the business, Conversion Works Limited will need to process the personal data of Candidates. We recognise the importance of data protection principles and will always comply with Data Protection Legislation.

The terms “Personal Data”, “Personal Data Breach”, “Data Protection Officer”, “Data Controller”, “Data Processor”, “Data Subject” and “process” (in the context of usage of Personal Data) shall have the meanings given to them in the Data Protection Legislation. “Data Protection Lead” is the title given to the member of staff leading our data protection compliance programme in lieu of a requirement for a Data Protection Officer.

What are your rights?

When reading this notice, it might be helpful to understand that your rights arising under Data Protection Legislation include:

- The right to be informed of how your Personal Data is used (through this notice);
- The right to access any personal data held about you;
- The right to rectify any inaccurate or incomplete personal data held about you;
- The right to erasure where it cannot be justified that the information held satisfies any of the criteria outlined in this policy;
- The right to prevent processing for direct marketing purposes, scientific/historical research or in any such way that is likely to cause substantial damage to you or another, including through profile building; and
- The right to object to processing that results in decisions being made about you by automated processes and prevent those decisions being enacted.

Under certain circumstances, some of your rights might not be available, or be limited by legal requirements, our interests or the interests of others.

Where do we get your personal data?

A lot of the information that we collect about you is gathered through the application/recruitment process, either directly from you, or through an employment agency. During this process, we also sometimes collect additional information from third parties, such as former employers as referees, academic referees and publicly accessible sources, such as LinkedIn.

What information about you do we collect?

We might collect, use, store and transfer different kinds of Personal Data about you which includes:

- the information found in your CV;
- the information included in your covering letter;
- the information you give us during interview; and
- information about your protected characteristics, as defined in the Equalities Act 2010.

How do we use the data we collect?

We use the data we collect about you to:

- assess skills, qualifications and suitability for the role;
- communicate with you about the recruitment process; and
- comply with legal and/or regulatory requirements.

It is within our legitimate interests to process your information in order to decide whether you offer you the role as it is beneficial to us to fill the role.

This processing will also help us determine whether we will enter into a contract with you.

Whether or not we collect or use certain data is determined by the recruitment process as follows:

1. We will receive your CV and covering letter and/or test results and use this information to decide if you will be shortlisted for the role.

2. If you are called for interview, we will use the information gathered at this stage to decide if we will offer you the role or to progress onto another interview phase.
3. If you accept our offer, we will then conduct our final checks, such as gathering references and information about your right to work in the UK, before confirming your appointment.

If you fail to provide any of the information noted above, at the times requested, we will not be able to make an adequate decision on your suitability for the role available, and unfortunately, will need to remove you from consideration.

How do we use 'Special Categories' of personal data?

- We use information you provide us about any disabilities in order to make reasonable adjustments during the recruitment process, as required.
- We carry out equal opportunities monitoring and reporting by processing information about your race or national or ethnic origin, religious, philosophical or moral beliefs, or your sexual life or sexual orientation.
- We do not expect to process any information about criminal convictions.

What profiling or automated decision making do we perform?

Conversion Works Limited does not perform any profiling or automated decision making based on your personal data.

How long will your personal data be kept?

Conversion Works Limited holds your details in relation to recruitment for a period of three (3) months after we have informed you of our final decision. We do this so that we can evidence our decision-making process in the event of any allegations of discrimination.

After three (3) months we will keep your information on file in line with the retention periods detailed below; this is based on a legitimate interest that benefits both parties, allowing us to contact you for relevant opportunities that may arise in the future.

The following data will be retained for six (6) years (based on completion of the application process date):

- Contact details
- CV
- Role applied for and outcome of the application
- Correspondence with you about the application
- Interview notes

During that time you have the right to request access to details within the operational systems and we will provide them to you in a readable format.

Once the initial 3 months has lapsed, you may request that details are removed from our systems; in this case we will remove all detail and confirm that to you.

After 6 years has elapsed, we may contact you to inform you that your details will be removed, but ask for consent to retain your details in case appropriate roles arise.

Where applicable, we might also be required to hold records for longer periods in order to comply with a legal obligation, such as the applications of foreign nationals that must be held by us for a minimum of twelve (12) months in compliance with Home Office regulations.

Who else will receive your personal data?

Conversion Works Limited may pass your data to third parties identified in 'Our Data Processors' section below. We pass data to these third parties strictly for the purpose of helping us to process your application. Third parties are not permitted to use your data for their own purposes.
